

BSDT's AYURVED MAHAVIDYALAYA, WAGHOLI, PUNE

DEPARTMENT OF AGADTANTRA AND VYAVHAR AYURVED

INTRODUCTION :-

- The Department of subject Agadtantra ,Vyavahar Ayurved and Vidhi Vaidyak is one of the eight branches of Ayurveda.
- The Department deals with the study of various poisons also deals medical aspect of law & deals with legal aspect medicine which inculcates the knowledge of Toxicology , Forensic medicine and Medical jurisprudence respectively among second year and third year B.A.M.S.undergraduate students.

SUBJECT OUTCOME :-

At the end of the course the student

❖ Knowledge objectives –

- Should be able to explain the basic concepts of Agadtantra in Ayurveda.
- Should be able to explain the fundamental similarities and differences between the treatment of poisoning according to Ayurveda and according to the contemporary toxicology.
- Should be able to explain how the recent scientific advances can be helpful in bridging the gaps between Ayurveda and biomedical approaches of treatment of poisoning.
- Should be able to describe the historically important contributions of Agadtantra
- Should have an awareness about usage of selected toxic substances in Ayurvedic Formulations
- Should be able to describe preparation and usage of selected antitoxic substances

BSDT's AYURVED MAHAVIDYALAYA, WAGHOLI, PUNE

❖ Skills objectives –

- Should be able to analyse, diagnose and treat cases of poisoning
- Should have the reasonably good skills in medico legal documentation
- Should be able to carry out the basic physical examination of all organ systems of the human cadaver from medico legal requirements
- Should be able to identify selected antitoxic substances by their physical characteristics
- Should be able to identify and record different conditions of Medico legal Importance in a live person
- Should be able to identify selected poisons by their physical characteristics

❖ Attitudes objectives –

- Should develop confidence in Ayurveda in general and Agadtantra in particular
- Should develop an attitude of openness to accept the limitations and strengths of Agadtantra and contemporary toxicology
- Should develop an attitude of questioning and of curiosity to understand the medico legal nature of various phenomena
- Should be motivated towards the process of lifelong learning, self study and should have a sense of compassion towards the suffering humankind
- Should be free from the fear of approaching and handling medico legal cases
- Should be keen to perform the duties of the medical practitioner to the best of skill, knowledge and standard of care

SPECIALITY :-

- The department boasts of a well maintained museum displaying dry/wet specimens, charts ,photos ,weapons and models showcasing relevant faces of medical jurisprudence, forensic medicine and toxicology.

BSDT's AYURVED MAHAVIDYALAYA, WAGHOLI, PUNE

- The department is having well equipped teaching/learning resources and faculty makes maximum use of new technology for teaching students.
- Achievements of the Faculty :-
 - Dr. Kulkarni Anand B. – Maha Ayush Bhushan – Swadeshi National Award from Ministry of India in January 2018
 - Vd. Moghe Pallavi A. – Maha Ayush Kamal Puraskar Swadeshi National Award from Ministry of India in January 2018

